Mrs. A. Jones President Methodist Aid Society

Mrs. Jack Keefe, retiring president of the Methodist Women's Aid Society, presided at the annual installation luncheon which was held in the church parlors, Tuesday, Mrs. R. F. Hogue, program chairman, presented the program which included several vocal selections by Miss Flora Cronemiller, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Kathryn Buffington, Ellen and Arthur James Maskrey presented an amusing skit, "The Mistake." In the skit, Arthur James, as the husband, calls a friend on the telephone and described the kind of dog he wishes to purchase for his wife's birthday gift. The wife, Ellen, hears only a part of the conversation and immediately decides that her husband is untrue. She then stages a tantrum. When she is finally convinced that her husband was describing a dog which he is about to purchase for her, she embraces him and all is well.

Mrs. Will A. Betts of San Pedro, addressed the group, her subject being, "Scraps From Life," which was both interesting and inspiring. Mrs. Betts is the wife of Rev. W. A. Betts, superintendent of Methodist church in this district.

Mrs. Keefe then introduced Mrs. Kemp Winkler, who introduced the past president of the society, Mrs. Keefe introduced her circle chairmen, Mrs. Reid McCray, Mrs. Frank Carr and Mrs. Earl Robinson, each giving the yearly report of her circle. Reports from other chairmen were read. Mrs. Keefe then thanked all her workers for a year of real co-operation and introduced the newly-elected president, Mrs. A. R. Jones. In behalf of the society, Mrs. Winkler presented Mrs. Keefe with a lovely occasional table.

Mrs. Betts then installed the officers as follows: Mrs. A. R. Jones, president; Mrs. W. P. Burgeson, first vice president; Mrs. D. Turner, second vice president; Mrs. R. F. Hogue, third vice president; Mrs. Jack Keefe, fourth vice president; Mrs. Marie Morgan, recording secretary; Mrs. Robt. Bartlett, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Stella Graham, treasurer; Mrs. Earl Robinson, financial secretary; Mrs. J. O. Bishop, Mrs. Snodgrass and Mrs. Robt. Bartlett.

Rev. Kemp J. Winkler congratulated the society on its splendid achievement in the past year and explained the possibilities of the new.

Paris Styles

By MARY KNIGHT
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS. (U.P.)—Lyolene has thrown her hat in the ring for plastic lines. Says she: "The movement of coats and dresses follows the natural plastic line of the figure, falling from the knees with a decided fullness. "Sleeves for the most part are simple, and inclined to width in coats. Short loose jackets and long coats are shown with suits and ensembles. Classic simplicity in design and outline, throughout my collection."

Something new behind the door marked "Plaid" is a plaid alpaca featured for coat linings and blouses. Wool tweeds are "in" for day and sport clothes; plaid and checked surrah silk for blouses and dresses. Jerseys, chez Madame Lyolene, are for sport and afternoon in black and colors, and a new material in light shades, is of a linen and wool mixture and used for sport dresses of the simpler type.

The classic example of her ideas is a black striped jersey dress with three distinct changes of collar, cuffs and vest, of white silk, gros grain and linen. Another, a deep rose tweed costume with a short circular cape that is adaptable as well for use as a peplum. This same dress is complete without either cape or peplum and with the addition of a large collar and deep cuffs of natural colored linen.

TODAY'S FASHION TIP
Plastic lines; simple sleeves; loose coats; novelty plaids, alpaca and jerseys—smartness in a nutshell by Lyolene.

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAYS OF TWO

A delightful affair of last Sunday afternoon was the birthday party with which Mrs. E. N. Tomkins entertained for Mr. Tomkins at the family home.

A bowl of yellow blooms decorated the center of the table where covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Acres and children, Lucille, Billy and Chester, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Tomkins and sons, Junior, Glenwood and Ernest, and Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Tomkins. Mr. Tomkins received a number of lovely gifts.

Sunday the same group celebrated the 12th birthday of Glenwood Tomkins with a picnic dinner at Banning Park. He also received a number of gifts.

HAROLD BURGNER IS TWO YEARS OLD

American Legion Medals Awarded Honor Pupils

Eight pupils, graduates of Torrance and Lomita grade schools, were presented with American Legion medals at a meeting in the Legion clubhouse, Carson street, Wednesday evening.

The presentation was made following a dinner at which Bert S. Crossland Post was host to commanders and adjutants of the 15th district. Percy Phoenix, commander of the American Legion Post, called the meeting to order and introduced Mayor Scott Ludlow, who commended the Legion for their splendid work in Americanism.

Mr. Phoenix then introduced James Scott, Americanism chairman, who presented the medals to the honor pupils. Mr. Scott praised them for their ability to earn such a trophy; told them that they had scaled one peak in the mountain of education, and urged them to make a collection of such trophies which stand for courage, leadership, honesty, bravery and scholarship. Those who received the medals were Arlys Fossum and Marvin Lee, of Torrance elementary school, and Betty Hatton and William Bosche, of Fern avenue school; Barbara Barnard and George Austenberg, of Lomita elementary, and Nell Mills and Charles LeFlame, of the Orange avenue school in Lomita.

These medals are of bronze. Those presented to the girls bear the figure of a woman with the inscription, "Justice and Liberty For All"; the other side bears the inscription, "presented to (name of pupil) for excelling in courage, leadership, honor, bravery and scholarship. The medals presented to the boys are larger and bear the picture of a soldier, with the inscription, "For God and Country." The pupils also received a pin and a certificate of honor, signed by officials of the local Legion Post.

Following the medal presentation, the 100 commanders and adjutants of the district held their quarterly business meeting, discussed plans for the coming year, which will be held in San Francisco in August. Steve Cope, 18th district commander, conducted the business meeting.

ATTENDS MEETING OF 1932 MATRONS
Mrs. Paul Kasper, 1735 Grand-erey avenue, attended the meeting of 1932 matrons of the Order of Eastern Star at the home of Mrs. Earl Moorhouse in San Pedro, Wednesday evening.

THIRD ANNUAL STUDIO PARTY
Madame Teafa Billini, concert pianist and teacher of piano, was hostess Tuesday evening, June 12, to the National Business and Professional Women of Torrance and Los Angeles club members at the annual studio party at the Madame Billini's quarters, 837 1/2 South Burlington, Los Angeles.

The program arranged by Madame Billini, introduced Jean Skinner, Wanda Stevenson and Lola Jensen, professional dancers, pupils of Mae Murray, who entertained with several ensemble and solo numbers; Miss Harvey, assistant violinist; Miss Kreidler, Labeled and an Old-fashioned Minuet, accompanied at the piano by Mr. Dittulo.

Miss Bunola Kay, radio artist and teacher of voice, the club's favorite vocalist, sang a number of songs.

In singing for this group Miss Kay has followed a set program but allows everyone to choose their favorite number, which pleases everyone, but keeps her busy as all her numbers are favorites.

Madame Billini accompanied all the other performers at the piano and played three solo numbers on request.

Guests of the Torrance club at this affair were Mrs. Anne Laiden, deputy president of the Los Angeles district; Mrs. Nellie Passfield, past state membership chairman; Mrs. Stella Alkire, past district vice president; Judge May D. Lahey, past state director; Mrs. Mary Eilen, Mrs. Gertrude Ruth Murphy, secretary; Dr. Florence Mae, Mrs. Miss Helen Hughes, president of the Los Angeles club, all of Los Angeles.

Arrangements for the party were made by Mrs. Addie Montague, chairman, and her committee, who did excellent work in decorating place cards and providing delicious refreshments.

ENTERTAINED AT COCOANUT GROVE
Mitchell McLung, of Torrance, was host Saturday evening to a number of friends at a birthday party given at the Cocoanut Grove, Ambassador hotel, where dancing to the music of Gus Arnheim's orchestra furnished pleasant diversion. Don SanFore contributed to the entertainment by singing "Dinner At Eight" and "Many Happy Returns of the Day" to his own guitar accompaniment. Other guests at the jolly affair were Mrs. Frances Tassony of Torrance; Miss Elsie Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Greenly, of Los Angeles; Howard Ferrang, Miss Dolores Remont, of Pasadena; Leo Vincent, Miss Leona Atherton, of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Paul Della Maggiora.
